Cold Snap To Stick Around Another Day

Record For Continued Low Temperatures Is Already Broken

Citrus growers last night battled for the third consecutive night against King Winter to protect their $100,000,000 crop as temperatures again dropped to the lower 20's, in many places shattering records chalked up by the previous cold wave 10 days ago.

Early Wednesday morning the mercury here dipped to 26 degrees and orchard heaters burned long after daylight.

Shortly before dawn yesterday the thermometer registered 24 degrees, climaxing a night of orchard firing which, in sheltered groves, got under way by 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Federal Forecaster Floyd Young of the government frost station at Pomona last night predicted the cold spell would continue for at least one more night and that temperatures would go even lower this morning.

Only in unprotected areas were fears felt that further losses may have been added to the $10,000,000 or $15,000,000 damage caused by the month's earlier cold wave. Growers using oil heaters have sufficient fuel to last through the current frost peril.

Weather officials described the month's cold snap as the longest, though not the worst, in Southern California history.

Here are Sierra Madre's minimum temperatures for the past eight days: January 14, 35; January 15, 32; January 16, 35.5; January 17, 30.5; January 18, 29.6; January 19, 34.6; January 20, 28.8; January 21, 24.6.

County Seeks To Hold Tax Overcharge

Legislature Asked To Validate Collection Illegally Made In 1933-34

Sierra Madrenes who took the time and trouble to file claims for refunds of the illegally collected portions of their 1933-34 county and school district tax bills will lose the right for such rebates under a bill proposed in the State legislature by the county board of supervisors.

All of the county's 29 assemblymen have been asked by the supervisors to support the bill which would validate the mistake made by the county auditor in figuring the 1933-34 tax rates and which, if passed, will erase the claims filed by property owners.

If unable to block the payment of tax rebates, the supervisors plan to sponsor a law making it possible for everyone to get a refund, regardless of whether the claim was filed before the deadline of last December 5.

The decision of Superior Judge Fletcher W. Bowron who decided that part of the 1933-34 tax rates had been computed in an illegal manner by the county auditor, at present is on an appeal before the State supreme court.

If rebates are allowed to stand and are upheld by the court, the county tax collector must return approximately $3,000,000 collected improperly in 1933-34.

Taxpayers, including those entitled to refunds, will have to foot the cost of the $3,000,000 rebate which, officials declare, can be made up only by hiking future tax bills.

It will cost approximately $1 in bookkeeping procedure to figure out the amount of refunds to be paid on each bill.

Auto Crash Brings Driver's Arrest

Accused of ramming a car driven by L. F. Hagan, 1500 Abbott avenue, San Gabriel, and then driving on without giving his name or address because Hagan assertedly said it was "all right to go on," Lloyd Wilson, 33 North Mt. Trail avenue, will appear tomorrow in police court for a preliminary hearing before Judge T. W. Neale.

Wilson was arrested Tuesday at Tuna Canyon C.C.C. camp.

Hagan told police he was about to make a left-hand turn from Sierra Madre Blvd., into Michilinda Blvd. January 10 when his car was rammed by a car containing Wilson and three other passengers. Wilson's car turned over twice, he reported. Wilson, who was uninjured, admitted he was to blame, Hagan asserted, and then said:

"Let's forget it." He then drove off, Hagan said. Hagan's car was damaged slightly, the front wheels being out of line and one tire flat. He said all the windows of Wilson's car were broken.

Local Assemblyman Fares Well At The State Capital

Considering the fact that the Democrats, for the first time in forty-four years, have control of the State Assembly and that the Speaker of the Assembly is a Democrat, Assemblyman Frank G. Martin, of this Assembly District, has been favored with unusual consideration by Speaker Jones in committee assignments. Mr. Martin is one of the very few Republicans who were given any chairmanship.

He was named chairman of the mileage committee, and a member of several of the most important bodies, namely: Ways and Means, considered the most important of all Assembly committees which passes upon the budget and all revenue legislation. Other committees upon which Mr. Martin will serve are: Governmental Efficiency and Economy; Public Utilities; Unemployment; and Prisons and Reformatories, of which committee he was chairman in the 1935 Legislature.

Four Dogs In Canyon Park Are Poisoned

Residents Of The Area Raise Fund Offered As Reward For Fiend's Arrest

Canyon Park residents are madder than the proverbial bunch of hornets this week, following a weekend of wholesale dog poisoning in the district.

A police dog belonging to Marie Coleman, 607 Woodland Drive, a shepherd belonging to W. Campbell, 634 Woodland Drive, and a plain ordinary "Heinz" pup belonging to Mrs. J. B. Smith, 642 Brookside Lane, were all poisoned Sunday evening. The animals were let out at various times, and in each case died shortly after coming back in the house.

Monday morning C. Wittingham, 651 Woodland Drive, let out his 75-pound police dog. An hour later it was found dead.

Up in arms at the outrages, H. N. White Jr., 33 Vista Circle Drive, announced he will offer a $5 reward for the arrest and conviction of the fiends.

The reward was promptly offered $9 by five other Canyon Park residents.

Lenora Hutchinson, North Mt. Trail avenue, has put up $5; Laura E. Cadmus, 601 Woodland Drive, $1; R. D. Clift, 221 Vista Circle Drive, $1; R. F. Humfrey, 648 Holly Trail Path, $1, and Gordon Felts, 18 Vista Circle Drive, $1.

While the humane society has a standing reward for the arrest and conviction of dog-poisoners, residents want to serve notice that the entire district is on its toes and ready to "start shootin'" at the first suspicious-looking move.

Burbank and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman.

Preceding the installation and program, a lovely noon luncheon was enjoyed by more than sixty members and guests, served by Mrs. John Spoelstra and her committee. The tables were daintily appointed with bouquets of flowers, red, purple and green colors predominating. Mrs. Maybelle Barker and Mrs. F. W. Miles were receiving hostesses for the affair.

Mabel L. Nicoloff, newly-appointed school nurse here, was formerly a field nurse with the Indiana University Extension Division and a public health nurse with the Public Health Nursing Association at Indianapolis, the smiling, soft-spoken woman whose job it is to watch the health of Mr. and Mrs. Sierra Madre's school children, told THE NEWS yesterday.

Mrs. Nicoloff, who took over the duties of school nurse on Monday, is a former Sierra Madren, having first come here four years ago from Indianapolis. A widow with three children, her present home is in Monrovia.

Coming highly recommended by Stanley McClintic, principal of the Monrovia Night School; Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, and Dr. J. L. The new half-time plan was decided upon as an economy measure, according to school board officials. Her salary will be $75 a month.

Mrs. Nicoloff will make home visits as well as a daily inspection of all class rooms to check up on the health of the children. She may be reached at her office in the school from 8:30 to 9 a.m. during the school week.

City Asks WPA Help For Extension Of Lima Street

The proposed extension hooking up North Lima street and West Carter avenue and not the proposed street east from Sunny-side avenue through "Wistaria Terrace," the W. J. Lawless subdivision, will be financed jointly by the city and the WPA, city hall officials explained yesterday.

Plans for the city-federal project are now being worked out. When completed, the extension, which will serve as a short-cut for visitors from southwest points to the Wistaria Fete, will be lined with wistaria trees.

Great Need Of The Nation Is Good Men

Retreat Movement At Mater Dolorosa Monastery Praised By U. S. Army Officer

America's salvation depends on its "good men," men such as are produced by the retreat movement, Maj.-Gen. Paul E. Malone, former commander of the Ninth Corps Area, declared at the fourth annual banquet of the Mater Dolorosa Layman's Retreat League Tuesday night at the Elk's clubhouse, Los Angeles.

Presenting a resume of retreat work during the past year, Frank M. Bering, president of the League, extolled the work of the Passionist Fathers in furthering retreats in Southern California. Forty-one retreats were held last year, attended by 1350 retreatants, he reported.

Among the guest speakers was Fr. McFadden, S. J., retreat master at El Retiro, Jesuit Retreat House at Los Altos, Cal., who spoke highly of the retreat movement here. Monsignor B. J. Dolan, chancellor of the arch diocese, representing Archbishop Cantwell at the banquet, declared the retreat movement was the salvation of Catholic men. He urged them to give it their heartiest support.

Among other prominent guests was Fr. Malone, S. J., president of Loyola University of Los Angeles. Judge Thomas P. White of the Superior Court was master of ceremonies. Arrangements were in charge of Fr. Stanislaus, C. P., retreat director, was unable to attend, being confined to St. Luke hospital with influenza.

Welcome Planned For New Students At Junior College

Carrying on an old tradition of the school, "Pal Day" will welcome February entrants to the Pasadena Junior College campus, where they will be met by Dr. John W. Harbeson, president, and Pat Paddock, student body president.

The music department has arranged a program under the direction of Miss Lula C. Parley, head of the music department, and a speaker will address the new students at the semi-annual Vesper service in the Calvary Baptist church. Present students have volunteered to conduct new students on tours of the campus.

Police Investigate Auto Theft Here

Police yesterday were investigating the theft of a car owned by Miss Eleanor Phillips, 631 East Orange Grove avenue. Stolen from in front of the Woman's clubhouse January 7, the car was subsequently recovered in Arcadia. One of the wheels was broken and the thieves apparently had tried to remove the clock and radio.

Judge Neale Thinks Of City Firemen

It occurred to Thomas W. Neale, local real estate and insurance broker, that members of the Sierra Madre Fire Department, due to the unexpected cold snap, would be better protected while fighting the flames if clad in woolen lined rubber coats, so he has ordered the coats (knee length) and will present them to the department for use of the four hosemen who are depended upon to carry the nozzles into or around burning buildings and who are invariably drenched.

Van Nuys Family Buys Canyon Cabin

Miss Helen W. Pfueger of Van Nuys, has purchased the cottage at 638 Brookside Lane, formerly owned by Fred C. Hermann of Los Angeles, where she plans to reside. The sale was made through the office of Laura E. Cadmus.

Cemetery Here Is Selected For Scene In A New Movie

Director George Marshall of the Twentieth Century-Fox films headed a trio of stars in "Nancy Steele Missing," a new production that landed in Sierra Madre's cemetery Monday to shoot a scene at the grave. Victor MacLaglan, June Lang and Robert Kent, members of the cast, were present as also were 50 or more extras.

The sound wagon and film luminaries arrived at 9 o'clock for the filming, but because of the smoke from the orchard heaters in the valley two hours elapsed before work started. By that time a goodly crowd had gathered. Sierra Madre was buzzing with excitement just to get a peek at the movie folk.

Two filmings were necessary before Director Marshall was satisfied and called it a day.

Pneumonia Proves Fatal To Harry Pyle

Illness Followed Exhaustion Brought On By Firing Orchard Heaters

Stricken Thursday afternoon with what appeared to be pneumonia, Harry D. Pyle, a director of the Sierra Madre-Lamanda Park Citrus Association and donor to the city of several hundred cocones plumosas palms sent on Sierra Madre Blvd., died early Friday morning at a Pasadena hospital of pneumonia.

Mr. Pyle had been in good health, although somewhat exhausted from the recent work of orchard heating in his 12-acre lemon grove at 472 East Sierra Madre Blvd.

Following a call from Dr. J. Earl Gossard, a resuscitator was rushed to Mr. Pyle's home by the first aid crew of the fire department Thursday afternoon and oxygen was administered to Mr. Pyle. Late that evening alarming symptoms of pneumonia developed and Mr. Pyle was taken from his home to the hospital where he died about 2:30 a.m. Friday.

Born in Iowa Falls, Ia., 62 years ago, Mr. Pyle came west in 1893. For six years he was manager of a bank in Williams, Ariz. Later he served as assistant cashier of the Pasadena National Bank. More recently he had been engaged in the mortgage loan business with offices in Pasadena. He operated extensively in Riverside county.

At the time of his death, Mr. Pyle, who took great joy in his lemon grove here, was looking forward to the time when he would engage in the citrus industry exclusively.

The palm trees which grace the parkway along Sierra Madre Blvd., attest to Mr. Pyle's interest in civic affairs and the public welfare.

He was the first mayor of Williams, Ariz., and a member of the Overland Club of Pasadena. He belonged to the Quaker Church.

Mr. Pyle married Janie Carnes, of San Jose, Calif., in 1900 and to them were born two sons, Robert Lloyd and Howard Carter, now living in Pasadena. Mrs. Pyle died in 1922 and Mr. Pyle later married Mrs. Elizabeth Hines Sheehan. Besides the second Mrs. Pyle and his two sons, Mr. Pyle leaves three step-children, John, Elizabeth and David Sheehan, who took Mr. Pyle's name; a brother, Edward J. Pyle, and a twin sister, Harriet E. Pyle, both of Pasadena. David Pyle is a senior at Pomona College.

Funeral services were held at a Pasadena mortuary.

Forum And Woman's Club To Join In Dinner And Meeting

Because of repeated requests following the last very successful affair, the Woman's Club and the Sierra Madre Forum are combining forces and again undertaking to give a turkey dinner at the Woman's clubhouse, Tuesday evening, January 26th at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. O. B. Manchester, well known here for her excellent reviews of current literature as well as her commentation on world affairs, will share the program with Charles Gibbs Adams, Southern California's outstanding landscape architect, who will represent the California Horticultural Society.

Mr. Adams will discuss plans for the coming Wistaria Fete.

Arcadia will also send a representative who will tell of the plan now under way to plant 2000 flowering trees in the County Park in that city. Five hundred of these are already established.

Reservations are forthcoming from the Horticultural Society, members of which are planning to attend the dinner en masse, and from local residents, so that a capacity attendance is anticipated.

Chamber Of Commerce To Meet Monday

Reorganized Body Will Adopt New By Laws And Elect First Directors

Looking towards next Monday night's general meeting at 7:45 o'clock at the City Hall, when the rules committee will submit a proposed constitution and by laws and the new board of directors will be named, officers of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, together with the rules committee, met Monday night at the City Hall.

R. C. Lewis, vice-president and manager of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank and newly-elected Chamber president, presided.

Carrying out the suggestion made by Jack Paschall, president of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, at the open meeting January 11, officers decided to recommend that merchants, who will be directly benefited by the Chamber, shall pay dues of $10 annually, while home owners, whose benefits, if less direct, will be none the less tangible, be admitted to membership at a reduced fee of $5.

It was emphasized that home-owner members will exercise equal power with the business men, and that home-owners' problems will receive the full and careful consideration of the organization at all times.

Tossing overboard previous procedure, which involved holding meetings at stated intervals, officers decided meetings in future should be called only when matters of importance demanded the Chamber's attention.

Suggestions and advice from business men and townspeople will be welcome at all times, the officers further declared.

Tentative by laws, which will be placed in definitive shape before next Monday's meeting, were submitted by the rules committee, composed of E. D. Burbank, Paul Carter, Paul B. D'Orr and Mrs. W. J. Lawless.

Conscription Proposed To Fight Fires

Warden Wants State Law Giving Him Authority In Emergencies

Conscription of Sierra Madrenes during major forest fires is a possibility under terms of a proposed State law urged to the board of supervisors by County Fire Warden Spence D. Turner.

Only sickness or disability would excuse any person selected by the fire warden or his deputies to fight fires.

Because of the depleted personnel of the Civilian Conservation Corps Turner said it will be necessary for him to go into populous centers to obtain able-bodied men for emergency fire-fighting purposes.

At present the county fire warden is not allowed to go into drafts of Los Angeles county to draft fire fighters, his authority being limited to drafting of persons unincorporated sections of the county.

Sierra Madre and other foothill cities, because of their proximity to the mountain range, would likely be among the first to feel the effects of conscription in the event extra manpower is needed.

Daughter Of Local Postmaster Named To Important Post

Dr. Esther Calkin Brunauer, a daughter of the Postmaster and Mrs. R. O. Calkin, has been named to head the national defense study commission of the national committee on the cause and cure of war. She will attend the regular annual meeting of the organization this month in Chicago.

A graduate of Mills College and Stanford University, Dr. Brunauer is the international representative of the association of American university women.

Dr. Brunauer was on the coast in 1935 soon after she had returned from a 10-months study in Germany.

County To Improve Mt. Wilson Toll Road

Los Angeles county will widen and improve the old Mt. Wilson toll road from Foothill boulevard in Altadena to Henninger Flats, according to County Road Commissioner George W. Jones, who recommended to the board of supervisors purchase of property for $500 from Jennie E. Osborne to provide right-of-way for the road widening.

At present, the road is narrow and offers only a single track for automobiles.

He that contemneth small things shall fall by little and little.—Ecclesiasticus xix. 1.

If we know of a kind act which we might, but do not intend to perform,—if we be aware that our moral health requires the abandonment of some pleasure which yet we do not intend to abandon, here is cause enough for the loss of all spiritual power.—F. P. Cobbe.

LITTLE FELLOWS LEAD

Small unincorporated business enterprises still account for about 40 per cent of America's national income, it is revealed in a study by the Twentieth Century Fund, Inc. Corporations too small to be included in the big business category account for another 20 per cent while corporations generally identified in the public mind as "Big Business" make up only 40 per cent.

"Big corporations are so conspicuous in many industries," the report said, "that the public has lost sight of those vast areas of American industry which are not incorporated at all or in which the small or medium size company predominates."

Even in the field of finance, corporations are not as predominant as is commonly supposed, the report said, pointing out that unincorporated concerns produce 44 per cent of the income.

DO YOUR PART

Traffic-accident deaths for 1936 are, in all probability, higher than ever before, according to information received by the National Safety Council. The official statistics are not yet available, but definite information for the first 11 months of 1936 indicate clearly that the toll will reach an all-time high.

In 1935 — 37,000 persons — enough to populate a good-sized town — were slain on our streets and highways. Last year's toll, it is believed, will exceed the previous all-time high record by nearly 500 deaths.

Agitation for safer streets and highways has never been greater. In nearly every community in the United States groups are working to prevent traffic accidents. This is not enough. It will take the active cooperation of ALL motorists and pedestrian to stem the rising tide of traffic fatalities.

Do your part during 1937. Drive carefully — walk safely!

THE SPENDERS

The local governments of Los Angeles county spent an average of $63.22 for each man, woman and child in the county in 1934-35, according to findings of California Taxpayers' association. Of this $63.22, $4.62 went for general government, $8.37 for protection to persons and property, $1.84 for health and sanitation, $6.26 for streets, highways and bridges, $10.01 for charities and corrections, $20.78 for education, $1.24 for recreation, 93 cents for miscellaneous, $7.58 for interest and redemption, and $1.64 for payments on assessment debt.

The per capita average expenditure of local governments, cities, counties, schools and special districts, for the entire State was $53.13, the association stated. Individual items averaged $4.51 for general government, $7.17 for protection to persons and property, $1.71 for health and sanitation, $5.53 for highways, $8.02 for charities and corrections, $20.03 for education, $1.30 for recreation, $1.18 for miscellaneous, and $8.68 for debt payments. Total expenditures of all the local governments in California amounted to $370,183,809, more than a million dollars a day.

CALLS FOR MONUMENT

Someone ought to erect a monument somewhere to perpetuate the names of the Gakwar of Baroda, the Prince of Mysore and the Nizam of Hyderabad. The Gakwar, the Prince, and the Nizam, three fabulously wealthy Indian princes, recently offered to pay the British war debt to the United States in return for freedom from British rule. Prime Minister Baldwin, who has a habit of opposing anything unorthodox, of course refused. Whether the princes realized that the debt is something over $4,000,000,000,000 was not disclosed. But

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

SO we got to thinking again of Anthony Gaie Trevore. Who, when we do think about him, always becomes our American Abeldar. (Pronounce it Ab-el-lar.) The Frenchman. Young genius of the Church. Buried at last with his true love, Heloise (El-o-ese). Almost a thousand years ago. In the Paris cemetery called Pere-Lachaise. Where you can still see their tomb. To this day sweethearts make it their place of pilgrimage. Look up Abeldar some day in your Britannica. Meantime, this thing about our American, the late Mr. Trevore—poet, soldier, banker.

ALREADY gray when we knew him best. But tall and slender, very distinguished. And always to our young imagination—with some subtle aroma of moonlight and roses about him. Even after we'd seen his wife. Who didn't look romantic at all. And wasn't. The sort of woman the ladies of the Browning Club described as "common." And the things Mrs. Trevore thought about the ladies of the Browning Club are, perhaps, as well not mentioned. Her language could be pretty awful. So it was said, when she was riled. Which she could be, it appeared, quite easily and often.

YET Trevore never flinched. A reserved man, even distant, in most of his contacts; with a tenderness, however, for all that was delicate, small, or needy, from crocuses to old folks. And we used to hear people say what a pity it was he never married Claire Hamilton. We heard this so often, and in so many different ways, that for us it became a sort of legend. Trevore, another Abeldar; Claire, a golden girl like Abeldar's Heloise; and their love affair an enticement for our own small town as that of Abeldar and Heloise had been for France in medieval times—and ever since.

TRAGIC likewise, it transpired Trevore disappeared. Eventually—some said because of pressure from her mother—Claire married someone else. A Mr. Moore, of New York. Who made her miserable. She died within the year. Mourned by everyone. Except her husband. Who promptly got another wife. Anyway, Claire's mother brought her home and had the name of Moore left off the tombstone: CLAIRE HAMILTON. Just like that. Then Trevore himself came back. By this time married also. To the wife we've mentioned. He'd found her stranded in Athens. Where he, like Byron, had gone to help Greece fight the Turks. An American girl practically from home—born in nearby Hartwell. And Trevore at the time he met her—with a letter in his pocket telling him of Claire's marriage to Mr. Moore.

TREVORE buried his wife of his last in her native Hartwell. An expensive plot. And endowed, so that it would always be properly mowed and garnished with flowers. And after that we saw more of him. Because now we were Judge Slade's office-boy—"reading law." And the Judge was Mr. Trevore's crony. We'd sit there and listen to them talk—with a forgotten Blackstone on our knees—and in the air a faint and lovely smell of old Bourbon that became a sort of incidental music. So that, little by little, this queer love-story came into our consciousness complete.

ANTHONY. And Claire. Their love had begun in childhood. And on through adolescence. Coloring the world about them. Ardent. But pure as the flame above an altar—that steady, that intense, and that holy. With no earthly obstacle either in their way to hinder an early wedding. Except . . . Except for . . . How shall we put it? Except for a creeping horror that had begun to seep into the depths of young Anthony's virgin heart. A horror he couldn't begin to mention to Claire. Of something you couldn't even think of in the presence of an angel. Could you? He meant—the biological implications of marriage.

PERHAPS Claire understood his trouble. One moonlit summer night she led him up to the top of a clover-scented hill. It was near her house, but where she'd never taken him before. Solitude there. Just they two. Silver river below. Crickets edging the silence all about. They sat down on the warm, dry clover. Their eyes met. Claire was smiling. He kissed her. While his heart stood still. For he knew what was in her mind. She spoke, happily, about the early marriage of a girl they knew. But Anthony felt as if he were bleeding internally. Late that night he scrawled some sort of note—to the effect that he was unworthy—something like that—and by dawn was on his way.

WHAT started us on this? Oh, yes, we remember. Two fine young men—they live here in Sierra Madre—dropped in to see us the other day. On what they said was important business. And what do you suppose it was? About our at least they recognized that the debt exists, and that debt involves a certain procedure known as payment.

Gaddin' Around with BILL PEET

EVERY time I park my dependable car "Special Delivery" in Monrovia, I marvel at the manner in which traffic is handled along Myrtle avenue, the main stem, and there is plenty of traffic don't forget that.

There are six intersections on Myrtle avenue between the boulevards, and not a single stop sign. The motorist must use his own judgement, keep his eyes open for pedestrians who may be crossing, and drive slowly enough so that there will be no collisions with cars backing out of parking spaces at both curbs.

I have visited Monrovia for business reasons once or twice a week since last July and have never seen an accident or even a near accident or any confusion. In fact I have never set eyes on a Monrovia cop, although I know they have 'em and the Monrovia cops are said to be tough. So I insist that this is some sort of a record.

There's a lot of civic pride in Monrovia, especially among the merchants and store keepers. The business men welcome competition and when there is a civic job that calls for cooperation they never hesitate about putting their shoulders to the wheel.

My business contacts with Manager Anderson of the Monrovia Furniture Co., Peterson of the F. J. Penney store, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Chess who handle radios, and Mrs. Farrar the advertising manager of McBratney's, have been unusually pleasant. They are keen business people, know exactly what they want and believe that advertising is the only means of success. So they are all going goods and getting better.

Apparently the snow carnival continues at Lake Arrowhead and Great Bear Lake judging by the illustrations I have seen in Los Angeles newspapers, and this recalls an interesting experience of my own, when I was the guest of the publisher of THE NEWS on an auto trip to Lake Arrowhead during Xmas week.

We stopped to thaw out at the lake curio shop and then hit the winding road down to San Bernardino. There was a thin layer of snow but not enough to require skid chains, but as we started down the highway it became very foggy and there was a feeling that something was going to happen.

The publisher told the driver of the car to make as good time as possible and after we had finally emerged out of the fog, he heaved a big sigh of relief. "We beat the snow storm that time," he said to me.

"What do you mean, snow?" I inquired. "Just that." The next week I read in the papers that autoists had been trapped in the snow storm we just missed and could not get out for several days.

Harvey Steinberger, and everybody knows Harvey, for he was born in Sierra Madre is not bragging about his war record but has among his possessions an honorable discharge from Uncle Sam's army. Harvey was a first lieutenant in the 17th Infantry Engineers of service in France. "I hope I never live to see another world war or hear of any," says Harvey by way of comment.

TOWN PICKUPS

"Doc" Worthington, one time ball player who held down third base for various clubs in the American Association and Western league is here for the races. "Doc" is living in Sierra Madre and loves to talk baseball. "The old time stars were the best," is his opinion. "Buster" Brain, who works in a Los Angeles bank, commutes each day via trolley. Olsen the shoe man was born and spent his early life in a small town near Philadelphia. More cars are seen each day carrying Iowa license plates. Are they all coming out? J. S. Billheimer, manager of the Sierra Madre Lumber Co. and former C. of C. president declares that no mistake was made when the newly organized or rejuvenated Cham-cemetery! How it needed fixing up. How—if we all got together—we could make it—no, not just a place of the dead; but rather a place of the immortalities; of Hope, and Faith, and Charity. Charity. Caritas. Meaning Love. In the highest and widest sense. Great love.

WHICH brings us back, after all, to Mr. Trevore. They buried him at last by the side of her whose name he whispered as he died. "Claire—Claire Hamilton." Judge Slade saw to that. And he brought out an old will, too, to show that this had been the wish also of Claire's mother—perhaps with some belated thought of atonement. No grave but has its own love-story. Let's keep the Sierra Madre cemetery worthy of that theme.

Hundreds of school crossing guards in Los Angeles county who have had to depend on their wits to halt traffic while escorting children from curb to curb will in future be given specially made hand signals. Large devices which can be manipulated by hand will flash the word to motorists that they must stop.

The First Lady of the Land went to jail a few days ago, just visiting of course, and what she saw in the way of overcrowded prison conditions shocked her. It was the local bastille of the District of Columbia that Mrs. Roosevelt inspected, where the positively intolerable situation existed of 691 men in a jail meant for no more than 450. We do things bigger out here in the West. One wonders what Mrs. Roosevelt would think if she looked in at San Quentin, where there are 6000 men jammed into a prison with a normal capacity of 3000. Bigger, but it is nothing for California to brag about. Fortunately our Legislature at last seems set to do something about it.

Don't Have This Epitaph Written On Your Tombstone

Particularly in California, where really cold weather is as rare as a snowflake in midsummer, a record-breaking blast of king winter's icy winds inevitably leaves multitudes of people sniffling.

And colds, you know, can develop into pneumonia. So if you've got one, or want to avoid getting one, here are a few "do's" and "don'ts" from the health department.

Treat a cold with the respect it deserves. Rest in bed as much as possible.

Consume warm drinks, preferably alkaline.

Stay in warm, moist, (not damp) rooms. A pan of water in the room helps keep the air moist.

Don't go out into the cold when you're overheated; beware of sudden changes in temperature.

If you're beginning to sniffle, don't go among crowds. If some member of the family has a cold, don't use the same drinking cups or personal articles.

A certain number of hardy souls will, of course, consider these precautions altogether too "fussy" to bother about. Well and good. But remember, an appropriate epitaph for numerous gravestones now in our cemeteries might well be, "He thought taking care of a cold was fussy."

It has long been a notorious truth that communists disagree violently with everyone else as to the form the best of all possible worlds should take. But because of Russian censorship and the general secretiveness of the species, it surprises most people to learn that the communists of Mexico are pulling each other's hair over the desirability of Leon Trotsky's residence there. They are split squarely asunder. Actually, you see, there are two bitter factions in the communist ranks, the Stalinists, which everyone in Russia had better be or else, and the Trotskyites, which many in other parts of the world are. Thus the hair-pulling in Mexico. Come, come, comrades, let's get back to the revolution.

The largest and most powerful streamlined locomotives in the world, built to pull Southern Pacific's new "Daylight" fliers when they enter service in April between San Francisco and Los Angeles via the Coast Line, have just arrived on the Pacific Coast. Six in number, the engines were constructed at a total cost of approximately $800,000. They are being placed in service on trial trips to fit them for their regular runs. Embodying every modern development for speed, safety and efficiency, the "Daylight" locomotives are strikingly different both in design and appearance.

To many Californians, next Sunday will be just another lull

February 4 Last Day To Get Your Car License Plates

Absolute time limit on motor vehicle license renewal this year as last will be midnight, February 4, the motor department warned autoists yesterday.

There will be no extensions of the registration period as in some previous years, it was said. State law definitely fixes the deadline and requires payment by all who apply after that time of a penalty of double the fees due.

Applicants must present the 1936 registration certificate with correct address shown and signed by the registered owner on the reverse side, along with the tax notice postcard mailed by the State motor vehicle department, and pay the $3 private passenger car registration fee and the license tax, rated at $1.75 per $100 car valuation.

Billed as the laugh hit of the year, "Three Men on a Horse," the film version of the well-known New York stage play, opens today at the Monrovia Lyric Theatre.

The companion feature is "Stowaway," the new Shirley Temple opus. The program is showing through Tuesday, January 26.

County Flood Control Plan Is Costly

Army Engineers Estimate Program Will Extend Over Five Year Period

Study and survey of flood control problems in Los Angeles county by U. S. Army engineers is approximately half completed according to a report of the county flood control department just released by County Supervisor H. C. Legg.

The report, which appears coincidentally with announcement of plans for flood control improvements in the Sierra Madre-Arcadia area, states that the cost of the survey will total $10,000. Army engineers estimate it will require five to six years to complete the county's entire flood control program which will cost between $12- and $15,000,000 a year.

Predicting "we may expect to forge ahead during the next five years through the greatest period of development in our history," Legg, in a resolution submitted to fellow county board members calls upon "all cities of Los Angeles county and the boards of supervisors of other Southern California counties, along with Chambers of Commerce and kindred civic groups, to anticipate their population increases and to join constructively for a greater Southern California."

The resolution suggests "the greatest caution to prevent location of new homes and communities in areas where flood or fire hazards lurk with possible loss of life."

Better Check Your Lights And Brakes To Avoid Arrest

Strict enforcement of the law governing brakes and headlights on automobiles is bringing results, according to Director Ray Ingels of the Department of Motor Vehicles, in his report to Governor Merriam for November. The California Highway Patrol issued 5,054 light non-arrest cards, and arrested 934 others for various light violations. During the month brakes on 2,386 cars were tested and only 121 found to be defective.

A.L.A. Activities

THE unit is asking the cooperation of the community in patronizing the rummage sale to be held January 29 and 30th at 47 West Sierra Madre Blvd. under the direction of Mrs. Thomas P. Bule and through the kindness of the Wiley cleaning establishment, a complete sell out is hoped for.

Attending the district meeting held in Arcadia were Mesdames A. H. Embree, B. S. Stinson, T. P. Bule and C. R. Lovejoy. An inspiring message was given by Ruth Mathebat, department president. Department chairmen present included Pauline Ellison, community service chairman; Martha Decker, past department president; Myrna Wyncoop, secretary-treasurer of past presidents' party; Irene Baker, drill team chairman; Ernestine Aylward, past department president, 20th district.

Members are urged to observe safety zones, speed limits, and in general try to help cut down traffic fatalities. As Auxiliary members we should be an example for other citizens. Americanism chairmen are asked to get their reports in immediately. President Mathebat explained the importance of the quarterly reports in relation to the department executive board meeting to be held in Clark Hotel, Los Angeles, on February 7th. Plans for the remainder of the year's activities will be made and necessary business transacted.

Increase of approximately 100 per cent over last year is being shown in advance enrollment of American Legion Auxiliary members for the new year, according to Augusta Coats, membership chairman of the local Auxiliary Unit. The Auxiliary entered December with more than 250,000 members already enrolled for 1937, compared with 127,000 enrolled at the same time last year.

Granddaughter Of Lucky Baldwin Is Secretly Married

Filing of a prenuptial agreement in the county recorder's office has disclosed the marriage of Rosebud Doble Mullender, granddaughter of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, to Joseph L. Atkinson, Carlsbad rancher, last November 4.

Dated October 26, 1936, the document stated briefly that each party would keep his or her property separate and that neither would inherit from the other nor share in the other's debts.

The couple were married in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in Puente. The former Mrs. Mullender inherited a large share of the $15,000,000 estate of her mother, Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, daughter of the sportsman whose early-day tiff with Sierra Madre forms one of the more vivid pages of Southwest history.

Tents Really Feel
Unusual Weather

Sierra Madre boys and girls attending Pasadena Junior College have plenty to say about the "unusual" weather which the "unusual" weather these days.

Going to school in the fifty and more tents that still provide "class rooms" for the hundreds of students at the Pasadena institution is no joke, the young and early this week the young people report.

They have to wear wool mittens, gloves, overshoes and warm jerseys, and even then it's an effort to write or take notes, especially during the early morning sessions when stiff fingers get little chance to thaw out.

The canvas walls aren't much protection against what is to unaccustomed Californians bone-numbing cold, while the elevated plank floors allow free circulation of frigid air.

Though the tents are provided with steam heat from the main heating plant, "it's just like trying to heat all outdoors," as one teacher expressed it.

The heat has been turned on at four a.m. in an attempt to make the tents warm enough for eight o'clock classes.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys
WHEN the fire call came into the station last week and Joe Swanson heard the address as 700 N. Lima street, he realized that there would be some difficulty in getting there. Rushing the truck to the nearest point possible, the fire was soon extinguished at the critical time.

Through our practices it has been learned that one of our trucks will not pass thru the road leading to this address and fortunately the road was not "clogged" with curiosity seekers when Frank Lovell drove the Pierce Arrow up the narrow road.

Once more the fire was caused by a poorly constructed fire place and hearth.

Our Wistaria Fete is now in good hands and when and if the firemen are called on for their support, there is not the slightest doubt that they will cooperate in any way possible.

There are twenty members of the fire department who attend the meetings. One man's opinion is not the sentiment of the entire organization and we have been long known as "Not a one man fire department." What one member may say or do is not to condemn or praise the entire fire force.

The men have a lot of good qualities, but after all, let's keep the "Fires Out."

Sierra Madre Sculptor Making Bust Of Famous Russian For Park In L. A.

Next month marks the 100th anniversary of the death of Alexander Poushkin, immortal Russian poet, dramatist and short-story writer, great grandson of a Negro and who more than any other man is credited with popularizing and modernizing the Russian language.

To commemorate the event a bronze bust of the artist who died in a duel at the age of 37 is being created by Gleb Derujinsky, 472 Grove street, Sierra Madre, and will be placed on a lot owned by the Orthodox Russian Church of Los Angeles.

Commissioned by the Alexander Poushkin Society of Los Angeles, Derujinsky has commenced work on the bust. Working from a portrait by Kiprensky, the Romanov of Russia, he will first create the bust in plaster. It will then be sent to a Los Angeles bronze works for casting. Derujinsky hopes to finish the bust in time for the world-wide celebration of the centenary of Poushkin's death next month.

Fascinating is the story of Alexander Poushkin. More fascinating still are the almost legendary tales of the man's great grandfather, A Negro, he was a gift from the Turkish Sultan to Peter the Great. Appointed an officer in the Russian army, he was sent at an early age to the court of Louis XIV where his romances with princesses and duchesses made many a mouth-watering tid-bit for the dandified scandal-loving court set. To the Court of St. James, too, went this Negro lieutenant of Tsar Peter's. Ultimately he married a high-born Russian girl and founded the family which, several generations later, produced the blue-eyed, golden-haired Poushkin. Peculiarly, none of the man's descendants was black, though Poushkin's features show faint Negroid characteristics.

Classed by students with Poe, Baudelaire, Byron, Goethe and Heine, Poushkin was the creator of the modern Russian short story, the greatest authority of his day on the Russian language and the man from whom stems directly much of the spirit and form of present-day Russian literature.

PLANT BUSINESS BIG FACTOR IN CALIFORNIA'S WELFARE

CALIFORNIA has 3000 nurseries, sales places and stores growing or selling plants and cut flowers, according to J. D. Meriwether, chief of the nursery service of the State Department of Agriculture.

While the nursery business cannot be called one of the State's major agricultural industries, Meriwether estimated that it totaled $45,000,000 annually, and that the plant business alone amounted to $22,000,000 yearly.

The federal census of 1935, he said, showed that retail stores in the State do a $7,000,000 business in plants and cut flowers. Shipments to Eastern markets total another $8,000,000.

Surveys of nurseries in the State showed 7,000,000 deciduous trees and 1,115,560 citrus trees with a crop of 1,531,925 seedlings for 1937 budings. Most of the trees will be planted within the state's borders. Some will replace old orchards, but the major part will go into new orchards.

An increasing yearly demand is noted in the survey.

Meriwether predicted the revenue derived from the nursery business will show an increase of at least 20 per cent this year.

Theatre 'Bank Nites' Outlawed By The Attorney General

Theatre managers have another problem to worry about this week, following the recent ruling by State Attorney General U. S. Webb that theatre "bank nites" are legal only if tickets to participate in them are available to all persons regardless of whether they attend a performance at the theatre.

"If a theatre has a register outside the theatre and persons can register without buying a ticket of admission, and if such a person outside a theatre has his number called and is permitted to enter the theatre and collect his winnings without buying a ticket of admission, then such a drawing would be legal," Webb's ruling states.

Otherwise, Webb said, "bank nites" are lotteries and operators are subject to arrest and prosecution.

"It is my understanding that some of these 'bank nite' schemes are copyrighted. This, however, would not protect the operator of any copyrighted scheme from being prosecuted if the scheme is conducted as a lottery," Webb declared.

Cold Weather Brings Call For Nurses

Due to the abnormal number of cases of influenza and pneumonia this month, due to the unprecedented subnormal weather, a broadcast for registered nurses, under graduate nurses and hospital orderlies was sent out yesterday by the Labor Coordinating Bureau, 201 South Los Angeles street, Los Angeles.

Legion Post Warns Of Phoney Veterans

A warning to all Sierra Madreans to demand that war veterans selling magazines from house to house show their credentials was issued yesterday by Sierra Madre Post No. 297, American Legion.

A number of people have been duped by solicitors posing as veterans, the post pointed out. The imposters make it difficult for legitimate veterans selling periodicals and all of whom carry proper credential certificates.

Demand For Skilled Workers Exceeds The Supply Now

Workers who still seem to think that Los Angeles county is a place where openings for any but unskilled labor are non-existent, are sadly in error, according to A. E. Wood, county manager of the California State Employment Service.

"We have had, during the last few weeks, more orders for skilled men and women than we have been able to fill," Wood pointed out yesterday.

"We know that there are skilled machinists in Los Angeles county wanting new or better jobs, but when we get an order for 40 of them, we are lucky if we get half that many from our files, and the employers who need help must get it from other sources."

Declaring "skilled workmen do not seem to realize they can get first-class openings through us," Wood urged all such labor to register with the State employment service.

TWO FILMS WILL BE SHOWN AT ST. RITA'S

On the afternoon of January 29, 1937, at 1 o'clock, a movie entertainment will be given in the Auditorium of St. Rita's school. Two sound pictures will be featured.

Churchmen Organize To Fight Crime

A campaign against crime and lawlessness by organized churchmen of Los Angeles county was being shaped yesterday as result of the conference of religious and social welfare leaders held in the office of Roger Jessup, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, recently.

The reform program will be conducted by a county-wide committee representing all faiths, with Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of the Episcopal Church serving as program chairman of the campaign body.

"Crime is costing the taxpayers exorbitant sums annually," Jessup pointed out.

The proposed drive will center on a vigorous campaign in the county's pulpits to educate parents to the value of home training for the rising generation.

A poet mailed an effusion entitled "Why Do I Live?" to a literary review.

The editor returned the poem with the following note, "You live because you didn't dare bring it in yourself."—YMCA Brooklyn Central.

New Instrument Boon To Lip Reading

Miss Marian J. Anderson, instructor of lip-reading in the adult classes in the Monrovia schools, has purchased a group-hearing instrument for use in her classes.

Beginners and those slow in taking up the study have hitherto felt they were keeping back more advanced pupils and so became discouraged. By using the instrument they can keep up until the eye has become sufficiently trained without aid from the hearing. Sound can be regulated or entirely cut off as skill develops.

The class meets in the Ivy street school, Monrovia, on Mondays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and Wednesdays from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m.

WILL OF HARRY PYLE FILED FOR PROBATE

YEARS MADDEST FILM AT UPTOWN THEATRE

"My Man Godfrey," billed as the maddest movie of the year, has its first return Pasadena showing at the Lamanda Park Uptown Theatre starting Sunday. "Goofy," "daffy" and "insane" is the way the critics describe the film, which features William Powell as a butler and Carole Lombard as a Park-avenue heiress. The supporting cast includes Alice Brady and Gail Patrick. Hit No. 2 on the program is "The Girl on the Front Page," a fast-moving newspaper story, with Gloria Stuart and Edmund Lowe.

Evelyn Munsell, 86, Dies Suddenly

Private funeral services for Miss Evelyn Munsell, 86, who died suddenly yesterday afternoon, will be held tomorrow at Church of the Ascension, Dean Arnold Bode officiating.

Born in Boston, Mass., Miss Munsell was a graduate of the Boston Normal Arts School and at one time instructor at the Columbia Institute, Columbia, Tenn.

For the past 25 years she has made her home with Miss Thomaella Graham, 457 North Lima street, where she died.

'Andy' Jackson And Winfield Scott On New Postage Stamps

Commemorative 2-cent stamps honoring heroes of the United States army and navy—companions to the 1-cent denominations placed on sale recently—are now available here, Postmaster R. O. Calkin said yesterday.

Portraits of Andrew Jackson and Winfield Scott will be the central subjects of the 2-cent army stamp. In the background between the portraits will be a reproduction of Jackson's home, the "Hermitage." The 2-cent navy stamp will feature portraits of Stephen Decatur and Thomas MacDonough, with a view of a warship of the period in full sail, forming the background.

Churchmen Organize To Fight Crime

A campaign against crime and lawlessness by organized churchmen of Los Angeles county was being shaped yesterday as result of the conference of religious and social welfare leaders held in the office of Roger Jessup, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, recently.

The reform program will be conducted by a county-wide committee representing all faiths, with Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of the Episcopal Church serving as program chairman of the campaign body.

"Crime is costing the taxpayers exorbitant sums annually," Jessup pointed out.

The proposed drive will center on a vigorous campaign in the county's pulpits to educate parents to the value of home training for the rising generation.

A poet mailed an effusion entitled "Why Do I Live?" to a literary review.

The editor returned the poem with the following note, "You live because you didn't dare bring it in yourself."—YMCA Brooklyn Central.

New Instrument Boon To Lip Reading

Miss Marian J. Anderson, instructor of lip-reading in the adult classes in the Monrovia schools, has purchased a group-hearing instrument for use in her classes.

Beginners and those slow in taking up the study have hitherto felt they were keeping back more advanced pupils and so became discouraged. By using the instrument they can keep up until the eye has become sufficiently trained without aid from the hearing. Sound can be regulated or entirely cut off as skill develops.

The class meets in the Ivy street school, Monrovia, on Mondays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and Wednesdays from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m.

WILL OF HARRY PYLE FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of Harry D. Pyle, Sierra Madre director of the Sierra Madre-Lamanda Park Citizens Association who died early Friday morning in a Pasadena hospital, was filed for probate Wednesday.

The value of the estate, save to say that it is in excess of $10,000 is not estimated. All of the estate is left share and share alike to the widow and two sons. The widow and the testator's brother-in-law, Harry A. Doty, are to serve as administrators without bond.
